Donald Trump is continuing to use his 'assets' to invade my own personal life in the same exact way that he is invading the lives of people around the world.

Yes, Donald's terrorists are at this very moment illegally ordering the first responders in our area to sounds their sirens (again and again) to alert me that I am the 'next Maduro'.

Donald, you are a terrorist. I do not support you. And, honestly, you embarrassed me for having ever publicly supported your efforts to lead America.

Please move on now and stop invading other peoples' homes in your desperate need to project 'power'.

Thank you.
